Achieve and Succeed Me whai, kia angitū

Congratulations to our Students of the Week for displaying the school habits and values as follows:

To Charlie Calder for Relating to Others – You get on with everyone. You are friendly, respectful, positive and helpful. You work alongside everyone and show initiative. You take on extracurricular activities and work with others outside of your friendship group. We enjoy your sense of humour in our class. Everyone likes you, Charlie and we know you like and respect us too. Thanks for being you!

To Knox Wakelin for Relating to Others – You are great at sharing your ideas with others and you always listen to what everyone else has to say. You are a kind and caring person who loves to make people feel welcome, especially when new students are visiting the school for the first time. You love to help out and always play nicely with your friends. Keep being you Knox; you are an awesome kid!

To Ethan McMenamin for Relating to Others – Your good manners and kind words to others don't go unnoticed. You have a fun and positive attitude and always encourage others to do the right thing. You will always offer to help anyone and ensure that others feel included. Your great big smile and sense of humour make everyone happy to be with you!

To Grace Shorten for Relating to Others – You always show how well you can work with others around you in different situations. You have been so helpful, respectful and kind to both teachers and students in our school. We love your friendly and positive attitude Grace. Keep being you!

Kia ora koutou,

I hope you are all enjoying the lovely rain again this week - fantastic to get the tanks filled for summer and grass growing in the paddocks!

I've really enjoyed the past two weeks back at school. It's been lovely to have families along for cross country and speeches. What awesome kids we have - participating and giving everything a go! I was really impressed with the speeches. It's wonderful that our children can stand before their peers with so much confidence, and teach us all something about their particular passion. Well done everyone and special thanks to our teachers who put so much effort into supporting student's speech writing and building their confidence. Congratulations to Addison who participated in the Rotary Speeches at Waipukurau School on Monday evening. Good on you Addison for putting yourself out there and taking advantage of every opportunity that comes your way!

We are looking forward to seeing you this afternoon for our open classrooms. Thanks to families whose children are demonstrating the Structured Literacy programme. We think it is having a very positive impact on our literacy programme.

Teachers are meeting in the holidays to plan for term 4. One of our first events is Pet Day on Wednesday 27th Oct. Thanks so much to those who have offered to help with activities. We now have 4 parents for Agrikids and 2 for junior activities. We would certainly appreciate a few more helpers in each area so please consider coming along and joining in the fun. The Pet Day slip is once again included with this newsletter. We appreciate your support. We have noticed that most children are now wearing the correct uniform and we thank you for abiding by our school uniform rules.

Included in today's newsletter is our statement from our Health Consultation reflecting your preferences for health education in our school. Thanks for responding to the survey.

This week we farewell Mr Stuckey. I'd like to thank Mr Stuckey for his mahi in our school over the past 20 months. We have really enjoyed his sense of humour, his gentle manner, his positive influence for our cross-country enthusiasts and his passion for technology, not to mention his regular contribution of raspberry and white chocolate muffins to our morning teas! Thanks Mr Stuckey and best wishes to you!

Happy holidays everyone. It's great that we are not in lockdown and can have some holiday fun out and about the town and countryside. School resumes on Monday 18th October.

Take care and enjoy the spring break!
